Anyone Want To Save $10,000 Of Public Funds?

Anyone want to save $10,000? That's the neat little question facing the Selectmen this week. For it's not just as simple as saying "sure".

Seems the town has been assessed that amount by the county for mosquito control. And the community has until Aug. 11 to withdraw from the project, only through the action of a special town meeting.

And that, of course, appears to be the problem - will over 350 voters come out for a brief town meeting to save $10,000?

If a special meeting isn't held by the August deadline, the town must stay in the project until, at the earliest, the annual town meeting of 1962.

Abbot Academy Bazaar Saturday

Saturday, May 2, from 2 to 5:30 p.m., Abbot Academy will hold its annual bazaar in celebration of the school's 130th birthday. The theme of the bazaar this year is "May Day in Paris".

Faculty chairman of the Committee is Miss J. Pamela Tinker, teacher of biology. Margaret Elmore, president of the Class of 1960, is student chairman.

New features of the bazaar this year will be fortune telling, candid camera shots, "The Country Kitchen", and "Artists' Sidewalk".

There will be the usual booths as well - gifts, flowers, plants, wishing well, white elephant and others. As always, the day students' booth will be well stocked with home cooked foods. Those (Continued on Page 12)

Assessor Archie MacLaren called the Selectmen's attention to the possible saving, with the comment that many towns in the county are pulling out, fast. He thought that the town could control its own mosquitoes for a lot less money, and the Selectmen were inclined to agree. (Continued on Page Eight)

Selectmen Move Closer To Retaining Manager

Raytheon Leases Ballroom Space

Raytheon Manufacturing Co. has arranged to lease 8,000 square feet of space in the former Crystal Ballroom.

The firm this week announced arrangements with the owners, Frederick A. and John F. Higgins, to lease the space. Board of Appeals permission was given some weeks ago to convert the Ballroom to office space, and at that time it was explained that Raytheon would use it.

The move into the Ballroom will be completed by the end of May, according to Raytheon officials.

About 100 employees of the industrial engineering and security departments will move into the new quarters, as will the community and employee relations department. Also moving into the Crystal will be the medical and employment section of the personnel department.

The plant in Shawsheen now employs some 5,100 persons, the firm has announced.

Realty Offers To Pay Bills

The Realty Construction Co. has agreed to pay the entire cost of increasing the capacity of the Ballardvale sewage treatment plant, providing it may have permission to tie additional houses into the sewer.

At a special meeting late last week, Judge Alfred Sartorelli and Irving Birchall, representing the firm, told the Board of Health that they desired to cooperate with the town in all possible ways. Rather than pay a suggested (Continued on Page 12)

TOWN CLERK TO STAY ON JOB 'TILL SPRING

Town Clerk George Winslow, whose retirement would be effective this June, has agreed to stay on until next spring.

Acting Manager Victor Mill Jr. announced the decision Monday night at the Selectmen's meeting. The move had been agreed on by the Board, as a means of helping insure easy transition into the manager form of government, and as an aid to the new manager.

Members expressed their appreciation to Mr. Winslow for extending his working years beyond the normal retirement time.

The Selectmen appeared to be a step closer to appointing a town manager this week, after completing eight interviews with the best applicants for the position.

Tuesday afternoon saw members of the Board entertaining Thomas E. Duff, present city manager of Claremont, N. H., who had earlier been interviewed by the full Board.

He was escorted through the town, had an opportunity to meet most department heads, and become more familiar with the community. He later met with the five Selectmen.

Chairman Eugene A. Bernardin Jr. said the Board adjourned without taking any action, with the thought that members would continue to think about the selection.

It is known that one or two of (Continued on Page 13)

Asked To Have Permit Denied

Residents of the Lovejoy rd. section near Lowell st., claiming they never knew about previous hearings on the location of a gasoline station nearby, appealed to the Selectmen Monday night to refuse permission to store gasoline on the premises.

The Board, however, granted the Socony Oil Co. its permit for the storage of gasoline, anti-freeze and oil.

Member James D. Wilson urged his colleagues to take the affirmative action on the grounds that the Selectmen have no responsibility for location. All the Board could act on, he claimed, is whether it is safe to store the products. The fire chief had approved the application.

Met To Discuss Highway Access

Selectman Philip K. Allen told his colleagues this week that a meeting with state officials on an access in Lowell Junction to the new Route 93 was encouraging.

Reporting on a meeting held late last week in Boston, Allen said the state commissioner of commerce, John Burke, had offered to set up a meeting with Commissioner Anthony DiNatale in the very near future.

This session will be primarily for the representatives of industries affected by the lack of an access road, Allen stated.

In attendance at the meeting last week were William DeHart of Reichhold Chemical Co., Arthur deMontigny of Mystic Distributing Co. and Richard Yurbi of the Shawsheen Rubber Co. in Ballardvale.

They described their problems relating to lack of an access to the new highway, while town officials detailed the complexities of attracting additional industry into the area without the access.

All three of the firms represented at the meeting use trucks, in and out of the area. In addition, the meeting was told of the possibility that Reichhold might locate its proposed central research laboratory in the Junction, if access is available.

Mr. Allen reported Monday night that the state officials were impressed with the presentation, pointing out that former reasons given for an access had centered around what might happen in the future. The present approach, with industries that are already located in the section, may be more effective, he continued.

Attending the Boston meeting, with Mr. Burke, was Deputy Commissioner James Reynolds. Mr. Allen and Joseph B. Doherty, secretary of the Industrial and Development Commission, also were in attendance. Officials from Wilmington and Tewksbury were present and vitally interested.

The White Sox farm team is managed by Robert Mathiewson and coached by Harry Batchelder.

Gas Co. Wants To Treat Pipes

The Lawrence Gas Co. has applied for permission to dig up to 198 holes above some of its mains, in preparation for increasing the pressure in the lines from one-fourth to three-fourths of a pound.

A representative of the firm asked the Selectmen to allow the work, which involved treating the inside of the main with a chemical. He explained that holes are tapped and a cable is drawn through the main, from hole to hole, with an attached nozzle which sprays the inside of the pipe. There would be few occasions when the individual holes would not be backfilled by night, he explained.

The company also wants to make tests along the route of its mains, thrusting a shaft into the ground and retrieving air samples that will tell whether there are any leaks.

The request was handed over to Acting Manager Victor Mill Jr. for decision.

Many Activities At Clown Town

The children's carnival Clown Town - annually sponsored by the Andover Society for the benefit of the Youth Center, will this year be held May 9 at the Playstead, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., rain or shine.

The day-long event will offer many rides, games, a puppet show, magician, and other activities for the young people. All sorts of refreshments will be available throughout the event.

Mrs. Guy B. Howe Jr. and Mrs. Hans Scherlin are general co-chairmen of the event.

Special Trip Held
By Girl Scouts

A large group of the members of Brownie Troop 32 and the Girl Scout Troop of West Andover enjoyed an Outing to Salem, Thursday, April 23.

Accompanied by the Leaders of the groups, Mrs. James Ellis, Mrs. George Brightman, Mrs. Richard Sullivan, Mrs. James Stewart and Mrs. Edward Warwick, the group visited the House of the Seven Gables and Peabody Museum. A picnic lunch was enjoyed at Salem Willows. The trip was made by bus.

Take A Good Look At This Scene

The face of Main Street is changing. The house at 70 Main is just about down now.

For over a century this house was often a doctor's office — Dr. DeGersdorff and Dr. Howarth back in the 1850's; Dr. Charles Abbott for half-a-century until his death in 1933; then Dr. Charles Currier since 1945. Here once stood a wheelwright's shop and a fire house.

What now? Plans for the immediate future call for an extensive parking area to afford greater convenience to the ever-growing number of Andover people — CO-OP members and non-members alike — who find it to their advantage to "Shop Co-Op".

Tax Rate Made
Definite By State

Final approval has been obtained from the state, definitely establishing the town's tax rate at $26.

Assessor Archie MacLaren and Engineer Bernard Magane conferred with the state tax officials before the final OK was obtained.

The recapitulation sheet used in figuring the tax provides the estimated receipts from all sources, as well as the levies against the town for county and state purposes, in addition to the town's own appropriations.

Total estimated receipts from all sources, not including money from free cash, is $907,229.

This includes, among the larger estimates, $154,201 from the state income tax receipts; $135,321 from corporation taxes; $200,000 from excise taxes on vehicles; $14,000 from various licenses; $45,000 for old age assistance, other than federal funds; $10,000 for veterans services, excluding any federal funds; $32,000, schools; $68,000 from state assistance for school construction; and $100,000 from various public enterprises, such as the water department.

The total estimated receipts of $907,229 are added to the amount to be taken from available funds, $325,669 giving a total of $1,232,898.

The gross total to be raised through taxation is $3,266,645. From this is deducted the total available funds and estimated receipts, thus leaving a net of $2,133,747 to be raised by real and personal property taxes and the poll tax.

Poll taxes amount to $9,076. Personal property taxes will bring in $82,768.40, based on a total personal property valuation of $3,183,400.

Real estate taxes will furnish $2,041,902.85, based on the total valuation of $79,534,725.

The total of these three tax items is $2,133,747.

Town's Expenses
On the debit side of the ledger, the town appropriated $2,732,594, plus $325,558 from available funds.

Deficits are listed at $9,107; an assessment is recorded of $9,394 for state parks and reservations; $1,921 for the state audit of town accounts; $927 for the state's examination of the retirement system; $10,515 for mosquito control.

County levies against the town include $87,460.18 tax; $23,141.14 for the sanatorium in Middleton; an underestimate of $10,652 on last year's county tax; another underestimate of $2,507.08 for the expenses of the TB sanatorium last year; and a final figure on the debit side is $53,964.03 for the current year's overlay.

The total of money to be raised, then, comes to $3,266,645.43.

"I sat down and figured what my monthly income from Social Security, pension and other sources will be. I'll need an extra $50 to $100 per month to retire comfortably. By investing each month in a Retirement Life insurance plan, can I build the extra income during the 12 years until I reach 65?"

Several weeks ago, we took over another service station in South Lawrence.

We find that operating two stations eats up more time than we feel we can spend, and still maintain the quality of service that our long-established customers have come to expect of us. Agree On Plan For Parking

The Selectmen have unanimously agreed, in principle, to the off-street parking program of the Board of Trade on the westerly side of Main st.

The vote was taken Monday night, after Trade Board President George Lister presented a detailed plan of procedure for the area, where well over 100 spaces will be available for shoppers.

Yet to be worked out is the formal language of the town's lease, for a five year period, plus a renewal clause for another five years. Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien is now working on the lease arrangement, in cooperation with the Board of Trade.

In general, the town will agree to lease the area, paying $12,500 to the Board of Trade for the lease, plus a dollar yearly thereafter. This amount will match an equal fund set up by the Board of Trade to pay for construction of the parking. The entire cost of the project - $25,000 - will initially be paid by the merchants, with the town's matching funds to be paid only after the work is completed.

The Trade Board's proposals, in written form, specified that it will secure leases for a 10 year period from each land owner involved. They will authorize use of the land, and its lease by the town.

The Trade Board will adequately insure the property against accidents.

The Board of Trade also will agree to hire an attendant, to insure best possible use of the area, which will not be metered. But maintenance of the property, while the town leases it, will be up to the town, to the same extent that any municipal off-street parking area is maintained.

Attending the meeting Monday, when the vote of approval was taken, were Lister, Wallace M. Haselton, David Roberts and Miss Anna M. Greeley, acting as legal counsel for the Board of Trade.

Women Voters Seek Action

Mrs. Harold Gordon, legislation chairman, and Mrs. R. M. Cole, president of the League of Women Voters, are currently alerting the members of the organization to the deadline for calling a Joint Convention of the General Court, May 13.

The Joint Convention is the only body that can give legislative approval to a proposed amendment to the Massachusetts Constitution. Legislative leaders say calling this convention is "up to the Governor". League members are being asked to write Governor Furcolo their opinions so that he may know what the citizens want before May 7 and so have time to call this important convention.

The particular amendments in which the League of Women Voters are interested are: amendment for a four year term for governor and amendment to remove tax restrictions. This is necessary to free the hands of the legislators to make a constructive overhaul of the Massachusetts fiscal system.

The League of Women Voters has suggested that all interested citizens write or wire the governor their feelings on this subject.

TOWN CAN SAVE $10,000

Furthermore, McLaren warned that, with many county communities withdrawing from the project, the assessment could go still higher next year and in years following that.

But the big question facing the Selectmen is whether a quorum will turn out for any special meeting called for this singular purpose.

Some of the Selectmen wondered about past experiences with special meetings - hadn't two failed of a quorum? How many have been successful?

And finally they decided to let the subject rest for a while, perhaps until a permanent town manager is on the job.

At the accepted ratio of $1 on the tax rate for $80,000 in appropriations, the county assessment for mosquitos is about the equivalent of 13 cents on the rate this year.

Several persons asked Monday night: "Has anyone actually seen anything of this project in Andover?"

CHURCH WOMEN WILL MEET

well as Dr. Schweitzer's Hospital in Lanborene. She will speak of her experiences on this trip.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in the lower Parish Hall of the Free Church. The afternoon session will start at 1:45, with the devotions by the Rev. James A. Bradford of the Free Church. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Alfred J. Penner, wife of the new president and minister of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference. Mr. Penner is the former minister of the Broadway Congregational Church, known as the Broadway Tabernacle. Mrs. Penner has had vast experience in Congregational Church work and will draw from these experiences for her address. After the benediction, the meeting will be adjourned.

Spoke Before Village Group

Two speakers featured the April meeting of the Shawshen Village Improvement Association.

A short business meeting included nomination of officers for the coming year and a report by Robert W. Neil, recreation chairman. Mr. Neil has been supervising 50 boys during the basketball season and he states that same number of boys will be reporting for outdoor tennis next month.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

Rigid Restrictions Required

The complex, and extremely serious, problems confronting the town as a result of the influx of gravel pits deserve very serious attention, the more so because construction of new highways is constantly increasing the need for the pits.

The town has a gravel pit by-law, and the Selectmen are charged with the duty of enforcing restrictions they have placed on the operation of the pits. This is sometimes easy, when the pit operator is local and intends to remain in business here over a period of years.

But the situation changes rapidly when big pit operators move in to take the gravel out in a rush, to fill areas where roads will be built. Sometimes these concerns do not pay much attention to requirements and restrictions. Indeed, while the very enforcement procedures are being carried out, the gravel is carted away in such a rush that it is possible to finish the job before the enforcement can be accomplished.

Three of the Selectmen — E. P. Hall, James D. Wilson and William Stewart — form a sub-committee to handle gravel pits. And they have thoroughly inspected all the operating pits now known to exist here. Some operators have been called on the carpet, and have begun to grade and fill according to restrictions imposed by the former Board of Selectmen.

Others, however, pose a real problem. And there will be more of these, as the pace of highway construction picks up, with Route 110 soon coming into the picture.

This town should learn, from the difficulties of others, that it is essential to rigidly control the pits, and to require a bond of the operator that is sufficiently large to actually cover all the work that must be done before the pit is abandoned.

We have no intention to suggest that gravel pits be banned, nor that any legitimate business be controlled too strictly.

But it is obvious, from the experiences of towns not far away, that some gravel pit operators will move in, take the gravel, and move out, leaving hideous scars as testimony of their brief presence. This must not be allowed to happen here. Areas from which gravel is taken can be graded, loamed and seeded, so that the land retains its value. This is not too much to ask of any pit operator.

It looks as though the Selectmen are moving in the direction of more strict enforcement, and more sensible restrictions, plus larger bonds that afford greater protection to the town.

The faster they solve this problem, the better we'll like it.

Mill Does Excellent Job

Victor Mill Jr. deserves the plaudits of the entire town for the able job he has done, during the weeks since election, as acting town manager.

He took over a task that was difficult enough in its normal responsibilities, and in a period when the town was so "shook" by the clean-sweep election that the transition period was even more than normally confusing. This was a job that many men would have refused, and justly, on the grounds that it would take too much time, involve too much responsibility, and bring down the wrath of too many persons around his head.

Mr. Mill, though, took the job and has done it well.

He has escaped the wrath of most persons, by using good judgment and in not allowing possibly-explosive situations to boil up out of control. But in doing so, he has not left decisions unmade, nor allowed departments to merely coast along until a permanent manager is hired.

All in all, it appears that he has done an admirable job under the most trying and difficult conditions.

Rogers Brook Again

We hope no one will blame us if we keep our tongue in our cheek when speaking, and writing, about Rogers Brook improvements.

For the story of the Brook is one long series of road-blocks and pitfalls, unseen until enthusiasm was at a high pitch.

The latest episode is a case in point — the state was to design a plan that could be accomplished for the money in hand, some $175,000 locally, plus matching funds from the state. After practically assuring everyone this could be done, suddenly the state presented its plan to do part of the job, using most of the money.

Now — and we wish the project every success, while

WELL THEY SURVEYED IT ANYWAY NEIGHBOR,
AN I HEAR THEY ARE GONNA TAKE SOME OF THEM ROCKS OUT TOO.

knowing that it has every chance of failure — the support of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce has been enlisted. Acting Town Manager Victor Mill Jr. has suggested that this organization, which wishes to be of service in the area, might be able to follow through with the state on a level that will bring results. But until these are actually visible, we're inclined to believe, on the basis of past experiences, that it won't quite make the grade.

In the meantime, the town itself could make life somewhat easier for residents along the Brook's course, by cleaning it out thoroughly. Debris of all descriptions can be removed, throughout the length of the stream.

We can understand the residents' feelings of frustration over the progress of negotiations with the state waterways division and their feelings, perhaps of bitterness, that all the good wishes in the world have not added up to one solid accomplishment, except the accumulation of plans on paper. And we hope, as they do, that the help of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce will be solid and substantial in its results. Even if it isn't, we know the outfit tried — and that's something. After all, where almost everyone has failed, it would be expecting a lot to get immediate action from the state.

Variance Granted For Gas Station

The Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc., has been granted a permit by the Board of Appeals to erect a filling station and conduct business on Lowell st. near the new Route 93. The location is part of property owned by the John Phillips Enterprises.

A hearing was held on the petition Feb. 5, with the firm seeking approval for permission to use 175 feet frontage on Lowell st. and a depth of 100 feet on the southeast corner of land zoned as a shopping center.

Two variances were requested, one to permit a gasoline pump island within 30 feet of Lowell st. and another to permit a light pole to be erected within 50 feet of a single residence district.

In making the decision, the board found that all specific regulations other than the two exceptions for which the petitioner requested variances, will be satisfied. It also determined that the development will not derogate from the intent of the bylaw and that the town can reasonably expect to provide access utilities and facilities necessary to serve adequately the development as planned.

The petition was heard the same night as a petition for the construction of a motel in the same area and adjacent to the station. It was explained that the business was not to be a part of the motel operation.

There was no opposition to the petition at the hearing.

In another decision given by the board, approval was given to Hazel G. Wilson, 7 Avon st., for the conversion of the second floor of her home to a three-room apartment. The only exterior change to the building will be the placing of an outside stairway.

spokesman, Ellsworth S. Cushing, had requested that the permit be denied, for the purpose of preventing the location of a service station near them. The station will be located on the Carter Farm, on the right hand side of Lowell st. going towards Lowell. The Appeals Board gave its consent to the location, after a public hearing.

The residents said they knew nothing of the meeting when this was discussed, although members of the Board of Selectmen reminded them that notice had been published in two newspapers.

Mr. Cushing suggested that it shouldn't be necessary for interested parties to read the newspapers to keep informed of such matters. It was explained that only abutters, those with land immediately adjacent to the affected property, are notified by mail.

Mainly, the residents believed that the location of a gas station on Lowell st. would be unsightly to them and would devalue their property. Mention was also made of an alleged promise by a real estate person, when the houses were sold, that no such activity would be undertaken.

Mr. Hall said he opposed the granting of the location itself, when he served on the Appeals Board. "It isn't the time for it there, yet", he warned the Board. Mr. Stewart did not specify any objection, merely wanting additional time to think about the problem.

However, the other three members agreed that the only consideration is the safety of storing gasoline and other products, without reference to location of a service station. They felt that anyone objecting to it on those grounds should appear at Appeals Board hearings for the purpose.

The representative of the oil company, Harry Wright, and land owner Harry Axelrod, informed the Selectmen that no one opposed the station before the Appeals Board. They also stated that the motel and restaurant, for which hearings have been held, were not opposed. No decision has yet been handed down on the latter proposals.

Attending the session, in addition to Mr. Cushing, were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Seman, Frances C. Dowd, Diane R. Saccon, and Mrs. Cushing.

The Socony Oil Co. proposes to store 15,000 gallons of gasoline in underground tanks, plus other products normally found in a service station.

about 70 homes plus houses existing along the route of the present sewer—could be installed for the estimated $10,000. The present capacity of the plant is 600 persons, and it has been explained that the plant is now at this capacity.

The Realty Construction Co., building, at present, 21 homes at Lovejoy and Dascomb rds., has plans for well over 100 houses in that general area. Just how many can be tied into the sewer is questionable, with many estimates in the neighborhood of 40. However, the engineer's report mentioned 70. Gravity flow is the determining factor in this decision, with some of the firm's holdings being in a section where pumps would be needed to tie into the present sewer line.

During last week's discussion, Judge Sartorelli asked that his firm be allowed to bid on the expansion project, along with all other firms desiring to do so. And he agreed that, even though Realty's money is going into the project, the work would be done according to the engineer's specifications and under the direct supervision of the sewer department.

Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien, town counsel, is being asked to rule on any legal points in the construction company's offer. His decision is anticipated soon.

Committee To Study School Needs Will Be Appointed

The School Committee will probably announce its appointees to a special committee to study school building needs, at its meeting next Tuesday night.

Supt. Edward I. Erickson said Wednesday that he believes most of the appointees have accepted the responsibility, after School Board members contacted them. But he did not have the complete list of the new citizens' group.

Secretary William A. Doherty originally suggested the move, explaining that new home construction indicates the need for a new structure in West Andover in the near future. He suggested that it might even be as early as next year, via a request for money to have preliminary plans drawn.

The pace of new home construction, meanwhile, seems rapid to many persons.

Realty Has 144

Realty Construction Co., at Dascomb and Lovejoy rds., is putting up a total of 21 homes, out of some 144 that can be built on land the firm owns.

Preliminary plans for the subdivision have been before the Planning Board and returned to the developer with suggestions for drainage and the solution of other problems.

Officials of the firm have indicated that the speed with which the 21 homes are sold will be the determining factor in the rate of construction.

Wild Rose Farm

Meanwhile, Harry Axelrod's plans for the development of the Wild Rose farm area, with a possible 168 homes, has reached nearly-final stages with the Planning Board.

After re-drawing the plans to include suggestions from the Planning Board, the definitive plans have been submitted and the public hearing held. All that remains is for the Board to once again study the plans and give final approval.

Mr. Axelrod has not indicated how many homes he will build in this first year of construction on the site.

Still Others

Still another development is in progress, on acre lots, off Woburn st. Esquire Homes is planning to build about 15 houses there.

And in the Strawberry Hill section, off Argilla rd., it is common knowledge this week that well over 20 houses are contemplated in the near future. The property has only recently been involved in a transfer, it is understood, with the new owners planning to move forward rather quickly.

Thus the total new-home construction reaches 347, without adding in the homes which can be built on land owned by developers in the West Andover area, for which no plans have been filed yet.

International Day At United Church

At the morning worship service in the Ballard Vale United Church next Sunday, foreign students will participate in the service.

Albert Sherring of India will give the morning message. Edward King, from Liberia, will lead the prayer and Miss Min Soo Kim, from Korea, will read the scripture.

Each of these, along with Mrs. King, will visit all departments of the Sunday School. They will be entertained for dinner in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fischer Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Maruzzi and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell.
